

Automated External Defibrillator Training

AED is the name of the device known as electroshock used in sudden cardiac arrest. In our center, AED training is given as part of the Basic First Aid Course, as well as separately. Although the AED is very easy to use, it is an extremely successful application in saving lives. It has been adopted to keep it in crowded living areas (school, workplace, airport, gym, bus terminal, etc.) and to be used by people who have first aid certificate.

Application Requirement: To be at least primary school graduate and having been a first aider certificate

Course fee: $227.11 + \text{VAT} = 268$ TL determined by the Provincial Health Directorate commission in 2021 (including exam, certificate and identity card fees).
